

I a writing to express my opposition to the subject of this proceeding. As a resident of Indiana, I have enjoyed immensely the freedom from unwanted telemarketing phone calls since the Indiana "no call" law went into effect. I am strongly opposed to any attempt to weaken the Indiana law. The existance of a business relationship with a company should not give it the right to invade my privacy with telemarketing calls.